

TD Jakes And Daniel 2:8 & John Gray Dream and Another That Follows

April 27-28, 2019

This dream I had on Sunday, April 28, is connected to an impression I received on Saturday, April 29. Initially, I did not know the two were connected, until God later revealed it to me.

Saturday, April 27, 2019

I was laying down about to go sleep when John Gray came into my spirit, and I had this thought.

A man is coming that will have similar circumstances like John Gray. Similar to John Gray, his darkest secrets will be exposed, but the difference will be, this man will have a vindictive spirit. His attitude will be – if I'm going down, I'm going to take many down with me.

John Gray has thought about doing this and many were afraid that he would, but it is not in John to do so because he has a need to be liked, despite his downward spiral. Therefore, there is another that will follow shortly after John Gray, who will expose many.

I had a dream about TD Jakes and I really think it is very significant. I recalled all of my dream, which was very long, but because I do not think all of it is important, I will just share what I believe is the important parts. The dreams had 3 parts, so I will break them down that way.

Part 1

I was in a house that I was not familiar with, but it was the home of my family. My brother was there (my biological brother), and my two sisters (these did not look like my biological sisters). My mom was there, although I never saw her with my actual eyes. At any rate, at some point my mom leaves the home. I am not sure if she left to go somewhere else or she passed on – but she was no longer there. When she left, I end up taking over and moving into her huge master bedroom. Everything in the bedroom was oversized.

I was in the bedroom with my two sisters getting ready for some event we were going to. I remember as I was about to leave out of the bedroom to go to the bathroom to take a shower, I looked back at my sisters. My oversized bed was against a wall where a huge window was above it. I was half-dressed, and the window was opened (no blinds or curtains). I could see there was a car sitting on the outside of my window. A woman with big shades was sitting behind the driver's side. Another person was on the passenger side, but I could not tell who or what their gender was.

At any rate, I walked out of the room into the bathroom to take a shower. But when I got into the bathroom, I decided not to take a shower, but just to get dressed instead.

Part 2

We ended up at this restaurant – my sisters and me. We all walked in together. The restaurant had these tall partition walls that section off each dining section. We were heading to the last section. One of my sisters walked ahead of me. I placed my arm around the other sister and whispered something in her ears. When we got to the section where we are supposed to seat, there was a long table to the right and a lot of people were sitting on the left and right sides of the table. One end of the table was against the wall. The other end, as you come in, no one was sitting there, so my sister and I opt to go on the right side of the table where there were two empty chairs. The first chair on the right, someone was sitting in it, but the next chair was empty. The third chair someone was sitting in it, but the fourth chair was empty. I offer for my sister to choose first. She looks at the person who was sitting in the first chair and scoffs at the person and then opts to sit in the fourth chair. I called my sister's name out loud as to correct and control her temper and then I sat in the second chair.

After I sat down, I looked up at the person who was sitting across from me, but the person's figure looked blur. To that person's left, I was shocked to see TD Jakes sitting there. He looks in my direction but never speaks.

At some point, TD Jakes started to get comfortable with the chair he was sitting in and started to complain and stated that he wished his favorite chair he sits in at his church was brought in because he did not like the chair he was sitting in.

Behind him, against the partition wall were 2 sets of extra chairs. TD Jacks finally got up to see if he could find another chair. Disgusted that he could not find another suitable chair, he ends up knocking all the chairs over and walked away. Everyone at the table watched and no one bothers to get up to clean up TD Jacks' mess.

When this incident took place, there were two reactions to TD's actions. (1) People were either scared to respond and so they did nothing. (2) The second group just ignored it – realizing TD was being TD Jakes. So, I got up and picked up the chairs, and placed them back to where they belong. I was irritated that not one man got up to put the chairs back or helped to do so.

Part 3

At some point, I got up and was walking along with another individual heading toward this opening area. I'm not sure where we were going. Maybe the bathroom or something. In fact, I could not really see who I was walking with, but I got the impression it was a male. As we entered into another hallway and turned to our left, I could see right ahead of us was this huge white basket cart – like hotels will have when they are collecting dirty towels. Inside the basket was a huge pile of white linen that almost reached the ceiling. Right about that same time, I heard a loud noise coming from the table area where I was sitting. It was so much chaos that I really could not see everything that was happening, but I knew it was not good. This is what I do know. People were screaming, things and people were being thrown all over the place and TD Jakes had turned into the Incredible Hulk.

Then I woke up!

After The Dream

I tried to go back to sleep. But I heard God tell me to do 2 things. 1) To go on my prayer walk, which was unusual because I usually don't go walking on Sundays. 2) I need to read Daniel 2 because it fits with this dream.

So, I grabbed my phone and read Daniel 2. The following verses stood out – verses 8, 14, 17, 18, 19, 28, and 36-43.

Then I heard God speak these things to me.

- There is another man coming that will have a similar circumstance as John Gray and he will expose many as he falls.
- The impression that I receive on the day before concerning John Gray was connected to my dream about TD Jakes.
- When I was told to read Daniel 2, it is because there are many in the Church that fit the characteristics of verses 36-43 in Daniel 2, and they will fall in the same manner as these countries. I received a very strong impression that TD Jakes was at the top like Babylon. And where it spoke of mixtures in Daniel's interpretation, are churches like Elevation Church.
- TD Jakes was uncomfortable in the chair because of my presence. His spirit did not agree with my spirit.
- I also heard the chairs TD Jakes knocked over but He does not clean up his own mess represents his messy life.
- I was reminded that when I left the dining table before the destruction began, I was escorted out by a male figure and my sisters were not with me.
- The white basket with the white linen in it represented a safe, hiding place – a way of escape from the destruction.

Felicia's Interpretation

- Your mother's room & her disappearance represent your mother leaving and you taking her place as the spiritual matriarch of your family.
- The house represents your family – Joshua said as, for me and my house (family), we will serve the Lord.
- The window represents the transparency of your life and your ministry. You have nothing to hide.
- The uncomfortability of TD Jakes and his search for a comfortable chair indicates TD Jakes current mind that he feels entitled to be comfortable. He does not like to be put in uneasiness and will often try to deflect from himself. However, because what is in him has gone UNCHECKED and NOT CONFRONTED by those around him, it has grown in him – he turns in the Incredible Hulk. Therefore, what is in him – the spirit of anger, the spirit of compromise, the spirit of conformity, the spirit of vanity and pride, will destroy many people around him and connected to him. A lot of people will suffer because of him. Instead of adhering to the warning signs, they (the people around him) have ignored it. Instead of upholding the word of God and putting leaders in check, they have pacified them.
- The man that was escorting you to the hallway was an angel of God sent to protect you and lead you to safety; so that you will not get caught or affected by what was about to happen to many prominent leaders in the church today.
